Secret

Dear Denning,

When Welles raised the point of responsibility for the breakdown of the modus vivendi the Ambassador suggested that it might be useful to have a chronological record of the progress of the discussions as seen from here. I enclose a copy of a minute which I wrote on the subject, which may be useful to you for purposes of record.

I also enclose a copy of a minute by Campbell, recording a conversation with Hornbeck on the same subject.

Yours ever,

W. G. Hayter.
